

WEDDING

Hines – Braden celebrate family ties

By CAROL GRISANTI
 Carol Grisanti / WEDDINGS

Tradition, sentiment and family ties played a large part in the planning of the wedding of Amanda Hines and Joe Braden. They chose the same church in which her grandparents and great-grandparents were married. Amanda carried jewelry from two grandfathers and a great-grandmother, who had passed away, in her bouquet.

The couple also wanted Amanda's son, Tyler, and Joe's son, Jake, to be an integral part of the ceremony. A wedding is such an important and meaningful event, and not every couple has the opportunity to share that with their children – truly unifying a family.

Flower girl and niece, Kaleigh Hines, added charm and levity to the ceremony by deciding to walk down the aisle without her ballet slippers and occasionally picking up some of the rose petals she had dropped.

The celebration continued at the Brown Hotel with dinner and dancing.

Amanda is the daughter of D.J. and Cynthia Hines of New Albany, Ind., and is a Realtor with Schuler Bauer Realty.

Joe is the son of Mrs. Frances Braden and is employed by Bray Marina.

Amanda and Joe planned a delayed honeymoon to Disney World and a Disney Cruise to include their sons. The family resides in Lanesville, Ind.

STYLE GUIDE

Colors

Chocolate, bronze and crimson

Wedding planner

Carol Grisanti
 Carol Grisanti / WEDDINGS

Photography

Simply Irresistible

Bridal gown

Rebecca's

Bridal accessories

Classic Veils by Carol

Bridal shoes

Mr. Louis Shoes

Tuxedos

Colonel Quick

Ceremony

Central Christian Church,
 New Albany, Ind.

Reception

Crystal Ballroom
 The Brown Hotel

Florist

Lavender Hill

Cake

Cakes by Joyce

Entertainment

Sounds Unlimited Production

Chocolate fountain

Party works

Chair covers and ties

Chair flair

Transportation

Xtreme Transportation